This isn't a level of the Backrooms, it is in fact a barrier between the frontrooms and the backrooms.

Description

The mysterious "level" of the backrooms appears to be a simple space, including a mountain and trees. A blue-like wall that you can see through but not pass through will come into view as you continue traveling. On the other side of the barrier, normal folks have been observed. They fail to notice the individual on the other side, though. Yes, the frontrooms are on the opposite side. reality. There have been attempts to break past the barrier, but none of them have been successful. 28 people, though, were able to cross over and are currently residing in the front rooms.
